

PRESS RELEASE

Magellan Circle Italy Srl signs a new agreement with Società Gasdotti Italia S.p.A. to support the search for financing in the field of energy innovation

Milan, April 21, 2025

Magellan Circle ("Magellan Circle" or the "Company") – a European consultancy company with over 20 years of experience in various fields, including transport, mobility, logistics, environment, circular economy, and communication. Providing strategic communication, advocacy, and international consultancy services, helping clients navigate EU funding opportunities and regulatory landscapes – recently signed an important agreement with Società Gasdotti Italia S.p.A. (SGI) for the provision of consultancy services aimed at the research, selection and preparation of public financing proposals at European and national level. The agreement will focus in particular on innovation projects in the fields of gas networks, hydrogen, biomethane, RFNBO (Renewable Fuels of Non-Biological Origin) and digital development.

The objective of the assignment is to provide SGI with ongoing strategic support in monitoring funding opportunities, identifying the most suitable calls and assisting in the drafting of project proposals. In this way, Magellan Circle will support the company in seizing the best opportunities to access funding for innovative and sustainable projects.

The contract envisages a strategic consulting activity in line with SGI's development assets based on the advanced knowledge in the fields of transport, circular economy, energy management and the important experience in the generation, negotiation and management of national and European projects of Magellan Circle. Further added value will also derive from the activation of the Circle network, which will enable the involvement of potential national and European partners in cooperation and innovation projects.

This agreement is part of SGI's broader strategy to promote energy transition and decarbonisation solutions. The collaboration with Magellan Circle, which will provide dedicated and ongoing support, will allow SGI to maximise the potential of its innovative projects, consolidating its role as a leader in the Italian energy landscape.

'We are excited to collaborate with Società Gasdotti Italia to accelerate the research of financing opportunities in a sector as crucial as networks and new energy sources,' said Alexio Picco, President of Magellan Circle. 'The consultancy provided by Magellan Circle Italy Srl, characterised by an integrated approach that combines regulatory-legal, technological and strategic expertise, will support SGI in projects that will contribute to innovation and sustainability, opening up new technological and business perspectives at European level; a project perfectly in line with the objectives of the 'Connect 4 Agile Growth' business plan.'
